

The Banking Group at Skadden represents a wide variety of clients around the globe in cutting-edge financing transactions. We have extensive experience with multijurisdictional matters spanning a wide range of industries. Our success is the result of a practical approach combined with the ability to resolve complex challenges and issues, as well as the collective perspectives and experiences of our team and our investment in young talent. We are frequently recognized for our work, including being named among the top firms for Banking and Finance by Chambers USA and Best Lawyers Best Law Firms.

Our international platform, with offices in the major financial centers on four continents, allows us to advise on matters across a broad spectrum of legal systems on behalf of the world's largest corporations, as well as the leading investment banks, commercial banks, private equity sponsors, hedge funds and other financing sources.

Skadden banking attorneys work seamlessly with our mergers and acquisitions, private equity, corporate restructuring, energy and infrastructure, capital markets and structured finance practices to provide the highest quality advice to our clients in all types of financing transactions, including:

- Acquisition financings (leveraged and investment-grade).
- Bridge financings (leveraged and investment-grade).
- First- and second-lien loan facilities.
- Leveraged recapitalizations.
- Asset-based financings.
- Mezzanine financings.
- Workouts, restructurings, debtor-in-possession and exit financings.
- Project financings and "alternative" financings.
- All aspects of personal property law, with special emphasis on issues that arise under Article 9 (secured transactions) and Article 8 (investment securities) of the Uniform Commercial Code.
