Co-Author, "Section 409A: Top Ten Compliance Pitfalls," Practical Law Company, June 2012

Kristin Davis advises clients on executive compensation and employee benefits issues in connection with complex corporate transactions, including mergers and acquisitions, sales, spin-offs, and other private and public business combinations. She has extensive experience in the design, modification and negotiation of compensation arrangements, including employment agreements, and equity- and cash-based incentive plans and separation agreements.

Ms. Davis also advises clients on corporate governance matters and SEC guidelines governing executive compensation disclosure and reporting. She counsels on tax planning with respect to golden parachute excise tax issues, limitations on the deductibility of executive compensation, and the tax rules and consequences relating to nonqualified deferred compensation.

She was as a key member of the deal teams recognized by the Daily Journal with California Lawyer Attorneys of the Year awards for innovative work on behalf of Broadcom Corporation in its acquisition by Avago Technologies (2016) and Intel Corporation in its acquisition of Mobileye N.V. (2018). Many of the matters on which she has worked were critical to Skadden's executive compensation and benefits practice being selected as one of Law360's Practice Groups of the Year in 2018 and 2019.

Ms. Davis contributes regularly to Skadden client alerts and other publications, including the firm's annual Compensation Committee Handbook.

She has provided executive compensation advice in connection with the following transactions, among others:

- Activision Blizzard Inc. in its $75 billion acquisition by Microsoft Corporation
- Apex Technology Co., Ltd. (China) as a member of a buyer consortium in its $4 billion acquisition of Lexmark International Inc., one of the largest outbound acquisitions in the technology sector ever done by a Chinese investor
