Will Eberlee acts on behalf of plaintiffs and defendants in a range of complex commercial disputes, including claims for breach of contract, fraud, tortious interference and breach of fiduciary duty, as well as in antitrust and securities actions and regulatory investigations.

Representative matters include:

- Rithm Capital in actions in New York and Delaware seeking to enjoin Rithm's acquisition of Sculptor Capital Management
- The Port Authority of New York and New Jersey in connection with the development of John F. Kennedy Airport's New Terminal One and lawsuits arising out of the construction of the George Washington Bridge Bus Station
- Brightline Holdings in an action related to the financing of the Brightline West high-speed rail project
- JPMorgan Chase in antitrust class actions and other litigations alleging a conspiracy among Visa, Mastercard and certain banks related to credit and debit "interchange" fees and related network rules
- Trasimene Capital in a breach of fiduciary duty class action regarding a de-SPAC merger transaction with Paysafe
- Peco Foods in an antitrust class action alleging a supply reduction conspiracy among broiler chicken producers
- Sky Airline, DAZN Group, Citigroup, Fortress Investment Group and Honeywell Aerospace, among others, in connection with corporate transactions and related disputes
- global food and beauty companies in putative securities fraud class actions and derivative litigations
- industrial holding and energy companies in an alter ego and veil piercing action related to the operations of a corporate subsidiary
- a professional sports league, digital wallet provider, real estate investment trust, pharmaceutical company and estate trust, among others, in individual or multidistrict litigations across the United States

Mr. Eberlee also maintains an active pro bono practice and has represented clients in housing, immigration, disability, voting rights, veterans affairs and education matters.
