Paola Lozano is co-chair of Skadden's Latin America Group and heads the firm's Spanish language corporate practice. She also has served as a member of the firm's Policy Committee. As a New York-based M&A partner, Ms. Lozano represents a variety of clients in mergers, acquisitions, dispositions, private equity and other corporate matters. Among many others, she has represented:

- Citigroup Inc. and its affiliates in various transactions, including:
 - the proposed approximately $2.5 billion sale of an aggregate 24% stake in Grupo Financiero Banamex, S.A. de C.V. (Mexico) to several prominent institutional investors and family offices, including General Atlantic, Afore SURA, BTG Pactual, Chubb, funds managed by Blackstone Inc., Liberty Strategic Capital and Qatar Investment Authority
 - the $2.3 billion sale of a 25% stake in Grupo Financiero Banamex, S. A. de C. V. (Mexico) to a company owned by Fernando Chico Pardo and members of his immediate family
 - the separation of its institutional banking business in Mexico from its consumer, small and middle market businesses. As a result of the separation, Citigroup now operates two separate financial groups in Mexico: Grupo Financiero Citi México and Grupo Financiero Banamex
 - the sale of its consumer banking and credit card businesses through international auction processes: to Banco Santander Rio S.A. in Argentina; to Itaú Unibanco Holding S.A. in Brazil; to Scotiabank in Panama and Costa Rica; to Promerica Financial Corporation in Guatemala; to Banco Financiera Comercial Hondureña in Honduras; to Banco Ficohsa in Nicaragua; to Terra Group in El Salvador; and Banco Colpatría and Bank of Nova Scotia in Colombia
 - its sale of Citi International Financial Services, LLC (Puerto Rico) and Citi Asesores de Inversion Uruguay S.A. to Insigneo Financial Group
 - its $512 million sale of Citigroup Global Services Limited to Tata Consultancy Services Limited (India), and a business process outsourcing services agreement for $2.5 billion over a period of nine-and-a-half years
 - its acquisition of the credit card and financial products businesses of Sears, Roebuck & Co., for an aggregate value in excess of $3 billion
- Grupo Argos S.A. in its agreement with Grupo Nutresa, Grupo Sura, IHC Capital Holding and companies controlled by Jaime Gilinski, resulting in, among other things, Argos transferring all of its shares in the food business of Nutresa in exchange for all the shares of Argos and Sura held by IHC, Gilinski and Nutresa. The agreement follows a multibillion-dollar stake-building campaign by Gilinski and IHC that involved a series of unsolicited tender offers over more than 18 months that sought control of each of Nutresa, Sura and Argos, all of which are large cap publicly traded companies in Colombia with operations throughout Latin America and the U.S.
- Compass Group in its business combination with Vinci Partners Investments Ltd. (Nasdaq: VINP) to create a pan-regional platform managing over $50 billion in assets across private markets, investment products and solutions, public equities and corporate advisory segments
- Actis in the sale of Atlas Renewable Energy, an international renewable energy generation company with 14 fully contracted solar assets that produce 2.3 GW of installed capacity, across Brazil, Chile, Mexico and Uruguay
- Grupo Wertheim in its acquisition from AT&T Inc. of 100% of the equity in Vrio Corp., the holding company of a leading digital entertainment business providing live and on-demand video services through the DIRECTV and SKY brands across 11 countries in Latin America and the Caribbean
- AustralianSuper in its and Stonepeak's $2.7 billion investment in and acquisition of Lumen Technologies' Latin American business

- Celsia S.A. in the sale of six renewable energy assets in Panama and Costa Rica with a combined capacity of 188 MW to Fontus Spain, an affiliate of EnfraGen, LLC
 - Moneda Asset Management in its business combination with Patria Investments (Nasdaq: PAX)
 - Threelands Energy Ltd and its shareholders in the acquisition of Guatemalan electricity distribution company Energuate, the largest privately owned electricity distribution company in Central America, from I Squared Capital, a leading global infrastructure investment manager
 - Grupo Romero Investment Office in its acquisition, from subsidiaries of I Squared Capital and Nautilus Energy Partners, of 100% of the equity of INKIA AMERICAS II SAC and SAMAY I S.A., which are companies that hold and operate the Central Térmica Puerto Bravo thermoelectric plant in Peru
 - Walmart Inc. in its sale of an 80% stake of Walmart Brazil to Advent International
 - Quala Inc. in the sale to Unilever of its shampoo, conditioner, hair styling, oral care and fabric softener product lines in Latin America, including in Colombia, Ecuador and Mexico
