

Joy E. Maddox

Skadden

Counsel, Washington, D.C.

Finance

T: 202.371.7539
F: 202.661.9189
joy.maddox@skadden.com

Education

J.D., Georgetown University
Law Center, 1987

B.S., Ohio Northern University, 1984

Bar Admissions

Colorado
New York
District of Columbia

Joy Maddox focuses on the Uniform Commercial Code and secured transactions. This area addresses personal property law, with a special emphasis on those issues arising under Article 8 (investment securities) and Article 9 (secured transactions) of the Uniform Commercial Code.

Ms. Maddox has advised clients on commercial law and personal property transfer issues in connection with syndicated senior credit facilities, subordinated secured credit facilities, secured note offerings, leveraged lease transactions, project financings, bankruptcy reorganizations, non-bankruptcy restructurings, real estate transactions and asset sales.

Ms. Maddox counsels borrowers, lenders and underwriters, and regularly advises financial institutions — including banks and broker-dealers — and private equity firms.