Jenness Parker represents public and private companies, as well as their directors and officers, in significant litigation matters in the trial and appellate courts in Delaware and other courts around the country.

Ms. Parker has been repeatedly recognized in Chambers USA (including in its 2025 rankings), with clients noting that she “has complete mastery of complicated subject matter and she is great both in communicating with clients and in court” and is “a true expert who is very thoughtful and strategic.” She has also been repeatedly named to The Best Lawyers in America and to Lawdragon’s list of the 500 Leading Litigators in America. Ms. Parker has advised clients on derivative and class actions, corporate governance disputes, M&A-related actions, books and records matters, appraisal proceedings, advancement and indemnification actions, other Delaware statutory matters, federal securities laws and complex contractual disputes. She has achieved success for her clients at all stages of litigation, including motion practice, preliminary and permanent injunctions, and trials. She also has unique experience utilizing a recent and novel Delaware statute to obtain judicial validation of certain corporate acts.

In addition, Ms. Parker frequently provides corporate governance and transactional advice on Delaware law relating to corporations, limited partnerships and limited liability companies. She has also represented companies, boards and special committees related to deal processes and litigation demands.

Ms. Parker has advised or is currently advising public and private companies around the world, as well as their directors and C-suite executives, including:

- American Apparel
- Amgen
- Archer Daniels
- Baxter International Inc.
- Booz Allen
- Cineworld Group
- CME Group
- Delek US
- Dentsply Sirona
- Devon Energy
