Nina Rose represents pharmaceutical, medical device and other consumer product manufacturers in mass tort and multidistrict litigation. She has extensive experience in the area of product liability, particularly with respect to pre-trial, discovery, and class action strategy and briefing.

Ms. Rose has defended challenges to her clients' claims of privilege and allegations of spoliation in a number of cases. As a result, Ms. Rose has a wealth of knowledge regarding steps clients should take to protect their communications, especially in the context of product liability litigation.

She also has significant experience with respect to the defense of consumer fraud class actions. She has written numerous articles on class action developments and trends, including strategies for disposing of class claims at the pleading stage and the role of expert witnesses at class certification.

Ms. Rose was named one of the Top 30 Lawyers Under 30 in Washington, D.C. by Legal Bisnow.
